RANKED THE #1 SNIPER RIFLE IN THE WORLD, THE M200 DELIVERS SUB-MINUTE OF ANGLE ACCURACY, COMBINED WITH THE ABILITY TO ENGAGE TARGETS OF 2500 METERS AND BEYOND.

/ CHEYTAC USA / .408/419gr

ELR AMMUNITION

The .408 Cheytac cartridge is a top-tier selection for Extreme Long Range (ELR) applications. The .408 Cheytac (419 grains) has demonstrated its ballistic supremacy over the .50 BMG, especially beyond 800 meters, showcasing an impressive ballistic coefficient (BC) of .949. Upholding higher velocity and energy levels over extended distances, minimal spin drift, a flatter trajectory, and considerably reduced recoil, the .408 Cheytac excels in delivering precise energy on target - a crucial advantage when engaging material targets, making it the premier choice in lieu of .50 Caliber systems.

- Patented Balanced Flight Projectiles
- Match Grade Copper Alloy Bullet
- Projectile Weight: 419 grains
- Projectile Hardness: 76 Brinell
- Ballistic Coefficient (G_1): .949
- Velocity: 2752fps / 839mps
- Standard Deviation: <10fps / <3.048mps
- Muzzle Energy: 8372ft-lb / 11351Nm
- Cartridge Weight: 60g
- Overall Length: 4.30in / 10.9cm
- Accuracy: Sub MOA
- NSN: 1-305-01-585-2330

CHEYTAC USA .375/350gr

ELR AMMUNITION

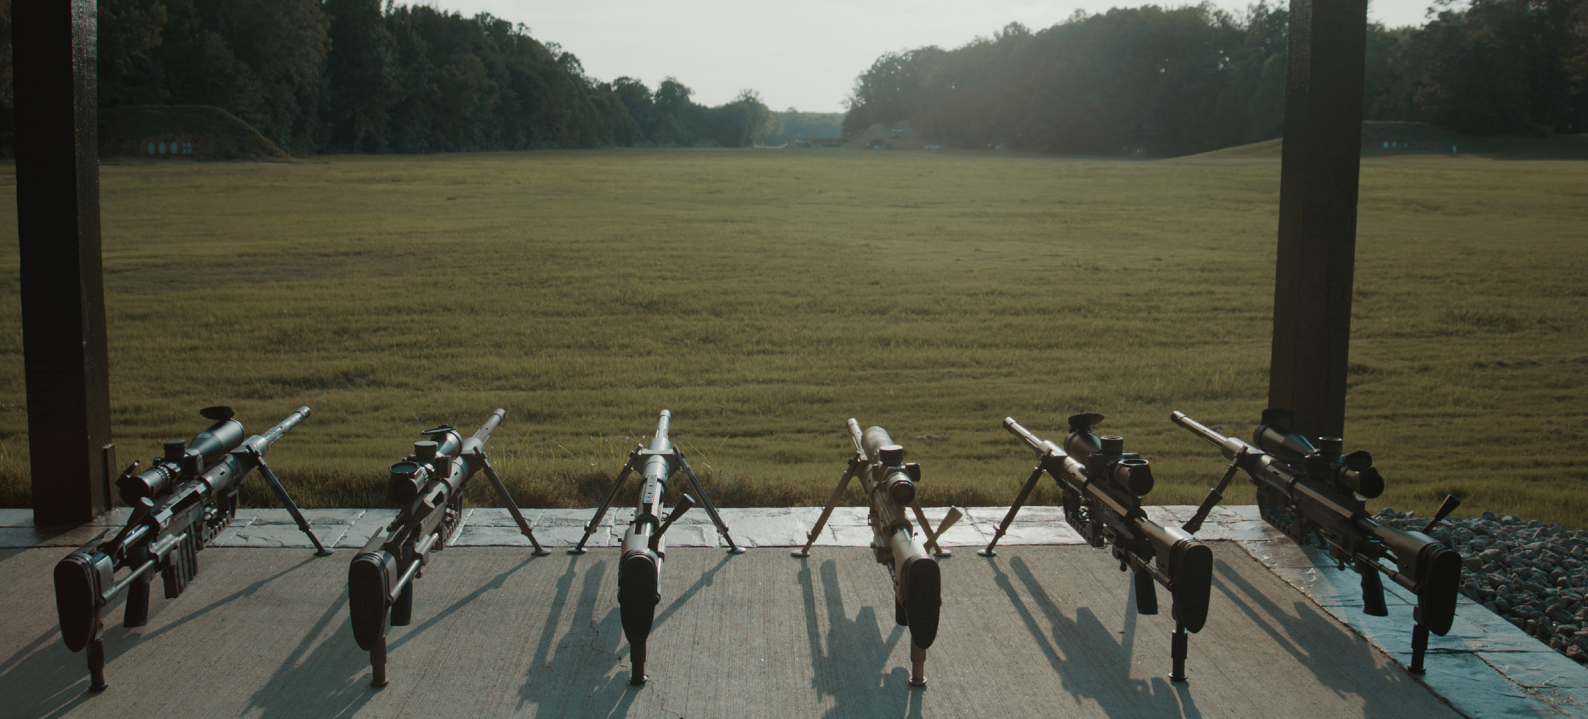

The Cheytac .375 (350 grains) offers a superior ballistic coefficient (BC) of .988, increased velocity, a flatter trajectory, and diminished spin drift when compared to both the .408 Cheytac and .50 BMG. Sharing the same bolt face and magazine as the .408 Cheytac, the .375 Cheytac's exceptional performance establishes it as the optimal pick for Extreme Long Range (ELR) competition and soft target interdiction.
